Dr Bessant didn't rush , even though I'm sure he was really busy, he was patient and asked just enough questions and played back to me what I was sharing that I felt safe to say more than I had planned too. His support has meant I have been able to return to work with support in place.

Didn't feel rushed
Because I rang with an emergency and the receptionist listened and put me on a list to see how urgent it is for a doctor to ring me which they did. When you hear about bad service and how people can't get appointments. I've always been honest with the reception and never rude and I've always been given an appointment. I can't say anything negative

Walderslade is a fantastic surgery with staff who really care and truly listen to you. I've been with them years but moved away for a couple of years, tried other GPs in that catchment area but none of them were as caring as the staff at Walderslade Surgery.

Receptionist approachable and helpful. I did however see a Dr Toor and although he was pleasant, I told him although not feeling ill I wasn't feeling myself for the last few months. This isn't like the drs in Walderslade practice at all .

Can't fault the practice and staff at all Never had any problems
Covered every aspect of my problem did all the testing that was required absolutely first class
The GP was a very nice guy, approachable and helpful.

My medical problems had always been carefully attended by the Walderslade Surgery. I feel my chronic health condition is understood and I received care every time I needed it. I booked appointments when I needed to see one of the GPs and usually, I managed to book in the same day with calling at 8:00 in the morning, except last time and I was booked in 2 weeks' time. At first, I didn't understand why I need to wait that much time but I agreed as my issue was not urgent. I am happy being Walderslade's patient. Nurses are always nice, the last time I got bloods, on 18th Nov, I really enjoyed that meeting. The nurse was all time nice with me, she explained very well what she is doing and she got my veins from the first time. Sometimes, my veins are not easy to make them give blood, they are hidden and hard to reach.
Good service no complaints brill

The Gp listened to what i had to say and answered my questions and concerns. I suffer from Agoraphobia and find it a task in itself to leave the house and attend the Doctors, that's why i tend to book a phone call. More calls should be offered to book on the Nhs app.

Despite waiting three weeks for appointment, I was very pleased with my appointment and found Dr Ibrahimi extremely helpful and sorted out my issues. Not surprising as I have seen him a number of times with my wife and as always, he sorts our problems!
Went in to make a appointment, got one the same day.
Had a home visit from the doctor for my mother in law. Doctor was punctual and gave advice on what we could do. Very pleased with the service and the results.
The doctor was polite, helpful, didn't rush things and went the extra mile with looking into my additional administrative query, including offer to send a text with details in relation to that query and suggesting ways to problem solve my query . I visited Dr Allan regarding my mum who's 91 years old and we're struggling to help her as not sure on her mental status and she won't have cognitive testing. He listens and provides some good advice, it takes some of the weight off my shoulders to know that when I need help it's available. He's offered to visit my mum again but after our conversation I think I can cope for a good while.
Can get appointments and good staff
Dr Guest was understanding, showed empathy and gave good direction on what my options were. Really listened to my concerns and helped. Very helpful
DR Hirst listened to me and didn't make me feel like he was in a hurry even though he was running an hour late

I called 111 and was my most recent experience of. Walderslade surgery was excellent from speaking with the receptionist and explaining my problem to the very polite and professional and courteous doctor who phoned me back and he listened to me and there was no rush he gave me time to explain my symptoms and acting on his advice I attended Barnsley hospital (A+E)department for treatment. Thorough, and professional Physiotherapist

GOOD

OCTOBER

GP was over 30 mins late. Doctor was very helpful and listened to my concerns.

Excellent when you can get in to see our preferred GP. Disappointing over booking system in the morning. Confused regarding advertising for new patients when unable to cope with existing ones.

Always good

Friendly supportive GP well over appointment time by 30 mins
Friendly and efficiently dealt with
The doctors are generally good but the receptionist I spoke with today was extremely rude and not helpful at all
Very professional
Always pleasant staff and help to sort out any problems I may have
I felt that on this last visit that I wasn't listened to in quite the same way as I have been before. Having said that I have been referred and already have an appointment at the hospital.
I was seen quickly and felt ok about what I was advised
Came away with some practical help for the issues I'd gone for.
Why not
On time, pleasant staff, good information supplied
Went for flu vaccine and everything went well.
Staff are friendly and helpful and listen to you, putting you at ease however I am greatly disappointed to hear that the referral requested by the doctor and the hospital hadn't been made since my visit a week ago. I was told this was going to be requested as urgent
Because I had to wait an hour from appointment time after work, but Doctor was Dr Hurst
No problem at all
Staff was friendly and professional
Online bookable appointments needed.
Mainly polite
Not too bad if you can get in and that's a big if.
Appointment was on time. Doctor appointment gave quick assessment and recommendations.
I had a telephone appointment instead of attending surgery, this suited me better with the issue I had.
Had to wait a while for appointment but that's the way things are these days, but everyone was polite, and I had several messages to remind me of the appointment. Good service
You managed to sort out my ADHD medicine, which I appreciate The reception are polite I see the nurses regular and they are always pleasant and smiley. It seems to be run 50% better than the last doctor's surgery
Apart from the frustration of getting through on the phone sometimes, the service has been .
Punctual clean, tidy friendly staff
I came and made an appointment for a blood test you messaged me to make and to see the nurse about my Asthma review , the receptionist was helpful in finding me a time what was good for me, the nurse was on time and all went well thanks
Listened to my needs giving me time and not rushing me . Thank you
I could not get an appointment on Tuesday morning, but called the surgery and was able to make a telephone one. The Doctor called me as promised and I was able to collect my prescription late that evening at my convenience.
Staff polite and very helpful and friendly.
Very caring
Appointment was on time, person on reception was friendly and helpful. The nurse, Bethany is great, easy to talk to, empathetic and happy to talk through things and advise.
The service was quite timely.
Dr Allan took timeout to answer questions and concerns with regards to ongoing issues
Listened and correctly diagnosed, felt comfortable and at ease, best doctor I've seen in a while.

NOVEMBER

Any questions that are asked are answered.

My appointment was on time and the staff member was friendly and approachable. The challenges are appointment availability particularly to fit within work commitments.

Always got time with a certain Dr, doesn't rush you and tends to get to the bottom of the problem.

Appointment on time. Doctor very helpful and efficient. Two weeks wait for appointment a little long.

I feel listened to.

Average

No problem, good service. Staff are excellent

My appointment was later as running behind, but doc still gave me time and supportive advice

Professional, friendly staff who try their best to help you

I had to have a blood test and book a Drs appointment the nurse was on time and the receptionist was very helpful thanks

Everything was explained to me by Dr Farmer

The doctor was very attentive and put my mind at rest. I felt much better after seeing him.

Almost on time, Dr Allan listens to you and gives you positive feedback about the issue

Very happy with the appointment, the doctor was very thorough with all aspects of my examination . One of the best appointments I've ever had

I had telephone call with Dr Hurst, I haven't actually been able to get into surgery due to ongoing health issues. I have severe M.E and it's a complex illness, Dr Hurst has agreed to be my point of contact moving forward to try and create a better GP relationship and potentially ensure I have a care plan/ annual review moving forward. He listened to my concerns and hopefully he will familiarise himself with the latest research and finding on the illness especially its vast symptoms and how best to manage them. I particularly wanted to ensure any new symptoms were not just dismissed and expressed how I felt my health has deteriorated which obviously effects my mood but also presents new symptoms or more aggravated ones. Am slightly more hopeful now. I know there isn't a cure, but you shouldn't ever stop searching for one.

Appointment was obtained from receptionist for that day and seen by doctor very satisfied

Was waiting a while for Dr to ring but understood the problem

Quick response from GP less impressed with having to go through details with receptionist but I do understand the reasons for this

Found the Doctor very understanding. Reception staff very pleasant and helpful

Good conversation discussed issue and was mostly satisfied. Not sure about iron deficiency

DECEMBER

I'm not sure I got my point across of what was worrying me, which maybe because I struggled to understand the doctors accent. I was sent for blood and faecal tests, but I was concerned that scar tissue from a previous op was attaching itself to 'something' again as I'm experiencing the same kind of pains. I'm still waiting results of tests.

Once I managed to get an appointment the medical staff were efficient.

Bit behind schedule but can't be helped busy busy 😊

This was just a regular appt for my B12 injection. The nurses are always welcoming, reassuring and keep to appointment times.

I was having my blood taken. I arrived 10 mins before and I was called in to the nurse. Straight away she saw to me straight away and I left within 15 mins

Very popular sometimes hard to get an appointment but otherwise excellent.

The first come first served system for on the day appointments isn't ideal

Booked in electronically. Knew where to go. Easy.

Appointment on time and nurse practitioner helpful

Is OK

The nurse was very friendly and kind
Followed up test results quickly. Sent text message re a scan I'd been for the same day. Pity there weren't any Christmas decorations up in the waiting room though
Polite helpful
Had to wait 3 weeks to see the doctor for a follow up appointment. But when I saw the Doctor she was pleasant and professional.
Always face to face service. Only downside is it seems to take longer and longer to get bloods and appointments.
Everyone at the practice is always helpful. I feel like I'm given adequate time, and I'm listened to.
Good wait time and problem sorted by doctor.
Friendly, helpful, professional staff
The doctor and receptionist was very helpful.
Caring, and very polite x

NEITHER GOOD NOR POOR

OCTOBER

Always have to wait for any appointments, not everyone can call at 8am due to work, and the staff do not realise this, not my last visit but the one before the girl on reception told me what my employer should be doing, that they should let me out for appointments and so on. She doesn't work for my employer and had no right to say this. Plus, every person in the waiting room could hear, which was not very professional. Another lady did sort it for me which I appreciated she was .

I had a 20 minute wait for my flu vaccination in a very busy waiting room, although the staff were once I got in there as always. My husband chose to attend local pharmacy for flu and covid vaccines and was literally in and out in 5 minutes. May do the same next time, I hate sitting in busy waiting rooms with people coughing etc

Poor Only used part of the service

Poor first of all no parking spaces. The GP'S seem to always be running late

Waiting 45 minutes for appointment

Negative - couldn't book an appointment via patient access (expected to call at 8am next morning) as previously - this is not always possible due to being at work. Positive - I did get a call back regarding a medical health check that I noticed I could request to book on the app.

I asked for antibiotics as I knew I was getting a chest infection as I had green flem and was chesty, I felt dismissed and not listened to, I explained I was going on holiday but was just told to rest and drink water. As I suspected I got a bad chest infection, it spoilt my holiday. Had to see a doctor today as I had stabbing pains in my back and it hurt to breathe, finally got antibiotics but all this could have been avoided if I'd have been listened to.

Depends on appointments

Test results were given late

NOVEMBER

Checked in on screen, it said my appointment was on time, it was 20 minutes late. Only one person went in during the 35 minutes I waited.

It would be good if I could get an appointment without having to come up to the surgery at 8 o'clock in the morning. Why can I never get one by going online or ringing?

Was invited for a cervical screening and was told cold and flu clinic was taking president despite most chemist and medical centres are offering cold and flu jabs. Had to call twice to book in. During appointment the nurse was lovely and calming with pleasant conversation and explained about next steps and what to expect.

Just takes too long to book an appointment, by the time your call is answered all that days appointments have been filled,

My latest face to face appointment was booked over 3 weeks in advance

It's very hard to get an appointment sometimes having to wait 3 to 4 weeks for one
DECEMBER
Appointment on time. Doctor was very professional and helpful.
Poor bedside manner
I have struggled to get any appointments, there are never any. I needed bloods took over 6 months to actually get correct test now again had to have bloods doctor can't read results. Rang hospital to be informed they'd not done it right again!

POOR
OCTOBER
I am very upset because I was not informed that I should be taking one of the medications, and no one contacted me regarding this matter. It was only when I opened the NHS app that I saw there was a prescription for me for some medication (the most recent prescription without a date provided). Appointments with the psychologist are constantly being cancelled (evidence available in SMS messages), which further hinders my ability to receive the necessary support. I am very disappointed with the way I have been treated and had expected more care and support from the clinic.
Your Doctors are not interested in Menopause
NOVEMBER
I didn't particularly feel like the GP listened to my concerns. I was cut off whilst speaking and reassured I was fine (which is great, but it made me feel as if I wasn't being listened to or understood). Surely, it's clear from my records that don't make GP appointments often (I am very conscious of not wanting to waste anybody's time) so when I have made an appointment to discuss something I am worried about, it would be nice to have felt more heard. I came away from the appointment feeling like I shouldn't have bothered and may have potentially wasted time.
Because the doctor didn't inject my mum's knees, he just told her to take paracetamol it's no good asking my mum anything she has got dementia and doesn't know what she is doing if he had read her notes he would have known this.
I arrived for my appointment time a little early. Worked out where we were in the list of patients when a patient came in and was 10 minutes late for her appointment. She was still seen which pushed my appointment back 10 minutes. She should have been made to wait. I had my 2 year old with me and was being picked up and it just wasn't acceptable. I came to the GP following advice from friends and family as I was struggling after being in an RTC the week before. I explained about the effects the accident had on my day to day living (sleeping mainly), I felt judgement from the GP. I have referred myself to talking therapies (which I could have done without that visit). I wanted help, and I left feeling worse.
I wanted an appointment early and I have got one for 7o'clock tonight so not happy as my breathing gets bad at night.
The doctor prescribed me a prescription which I paid for at the chemist only to get a phone call saying I'd been prescribed the wrong dose. I went a few days later to exchange the prescription only to be told I'd have to purchase again, and the new prescription still hadn't come through. I still haven't received this prescription a week later. Communication here wasn't as expected this time.
He didn't seem that interested in what I was saying. Even had to ask him to look at the marks on my face, he said come back in 8 weeks. Not happy, will be paying someone to look at them.
DECEMBER
Online appointments unavailable. Queuing for an appointment at 8am with 38 people in the queue ahead then finally through at 8:15am no GP appointments left for the day. GP running 50 minutes behind. No notification on the online checking system to communicate this upon check In. Poor communication and patient choice available.
Not very helpful at all chest very phlegmy but sent away with an inhaler which had no effect at all

VERY POOR
OCTOBER
I went with chest pain and back pain and bruises. I also explained my gut/bowel is inflamed making passing stools difficult. I have severe M.E and often bedbound over 20+ hours. There is no care plan in place, no empathy. Staff don't even follow new research or seem aware of guidelines, instead follow outdated default of treating like a mental illness and pump me full of antidepressants which is ironic as the GP I saw was more depressed than me! I try not to go with any new symptoms as I am always gaslighted. The GP I saw wasn't even going to refer me for an xRay or blood test until I pushed it! Even if it doesn't come back with the finding you would expect, it doesn't mean I am not in pain or struggling. M.E is a complex illness, we are only just finding more out about the illness. Hell, I have had to become my own expert because GPs don't have time or can't be bothered to keep up with the findings. It's well documented that there is a genetic DNA difference in our blood in regard to how we produce energy or rather post exertion, we also have complications similar to i.e. auto immune disease and particularly inflammatory response. Yet when I explain this, it falls on deaf ears! I used to have a sympathetic GP at this Surgery, but they retire and now it depends who I see. I have just spent another 20 hours bedbound, pain in back and stomach yet their answer is to pump me full of antidepressants and laxatives! And ignore any new symptoms or research. I am not expecting a magic wand but this falls well short. Lack of basic empathy for a start!
NOVEMBER
Appointment waiting times.
DECEMBER
The appointment itself was great with a lovely doctor, but it was only to book an appointment for a bone density scan. I did say to the receptionist at time of them calling me to make the appointment, do I really need an appointment for this. So could have been arranged without wasting the doctors time. I have an issue with premeds, and I struggle with stress and anxiety which in turn can then cause me to have a anaphylaxis attack. The hospital at Sheffield informed me to get some diazepam to take on the night before and morning of my operation which was yesterday, I rang the surgery on the day after the pre-op assessment and was told by your receptionist during the day before the op and this would be done for me with a call to the doctor. I did this he then was very condescending on the phone and refused to give me the prescription. My records can easily be assessed by the doctors and prove what I was saying was true. Or he could have given me an alternative. He didn't and again I had a severe reaction under anaesthetic which extended my stay in hospital and also meant giving me more drugs and much stronger drugs that was needed to do the operation I feel could have been prevented. I am very angry and very upset and frankly disgusted in the way I was talked to I work for a living and have now had to have today off work as I haven't slept or yet recovered. I was assured I could go back to work today on light duties now I have lost another day's pay and in the current climate this is a hard hit to take. I came in as advised by the hospital to ask for a referral to see a dermatologist (this was a skin specialist who told me to ask) where I felt my case was dismissed. Dr Wilkinson constantly kept mentioning my weight and when reading out whatever she had googled emphasised weight loss whenever it came up. I have lost a lot of weight, around 5 stone, and she has made me feel so down about this like I'm not valid to be seen due to my weight. She basically said there was no point referring me as there is a 10 month wait list and told me to try a cream first and sanex. I already use sanex which makes no difference. She also told me my case and scarring is mild which I strongly disagree with as my body is covered in scarring, which I'm massively insecure about. My daughter was given the wrong immunisation at her appointment. Waited 40 minutes and the receptionist was rude. I am actually sick to death of coming to the doctors to review little or no treatment of what I've made my appointment for. Doctors are useless and offer no help whatsoever, the only time I am satisfied with any appointment I have been for is the repeat prescription of the pill.
